

Clifford Holroyde receives charity money to reward pupils.

I am pleased to state that again the school has received some money from the Margaret Bryce Smith Scholarships Charity to reward pupil achievement. The object of the Margaret Bryce Smith School Scholarships Charity is to further the education of pupils attending any secondary school in the City of Liverpool by the award of prizes.

I will be using the money to reward pupils each week up until the Christmas holidays with Amazon vouchers. £10 vouchers will be given to pupils who display excellent attendance and who have a good relationship with school.

A big well done to all the pupils who achieve the rewards, and great big thank you to the Margaret Bryce Smith Scholarships Charity for helping support the school and the pupils.

Mr Oxley
